UPC Set Up & Catalog

U.P.C.

GS1 is a global company that provides vendors with unique identification of products (U.P.C.s) and companies (prefixes), which serve as the building blocks for barcodes.

How to get your UPCs in the Macy's system:

- Global Exchange Services (GXS) – Our partner in technology owned by OpenText
- Electronically sending U.P.C. and style level information to Macy's via 832-EDI.
- Manual upload and partnership with Merch Ops – Only for vendors who do not use GXS or 832 EDI.

Important Note: Each individual product that you are planning on selling will need its own unique U.P.C. code.

Each variant of the product will also require a unique U.P.C. code so that products of different sizes and colors will each be uniquely represented with an individual U.P.C.

The Flow of Information Outside of Macy's

- Vendor
  - The vendor is the starting point for all UPC information.
  - This information should follow the GXS guidelines for UPCs, color codes, size codes and more.
- GXS
  - The global database used by most vendors and retailers to hold their UPC information (this does not include MMG).
  - GXS ensures that UPC information is uniform among retailers using it.
  - Information is uploaded by the vendor and not in our control.
  - Changes need to be initiated by the vendor.

Identifies a specific product at the Color/Size level

PID groups UPCs in a single product number. Multiple colors can live within a PID. The PID description describes the type of merchandise.

NRF Color Code is a 3-digit code. Black is color code 001 and is consistent across all retailers. The NRF Color Description for 001 is 'black'.

NRF Size Code is a 5-digit size code. A Missy Shirt is size code 33904 and NRF size description 'large'. This size code would be different for a Women's Plus or Petite size large.

Vendor Line List vs Vendor Catalog

Majority of the errors our merchants run into stem from Vendor Line List discrepancies.

Please confirm that the information you upload in GXS matches what you provide to the merchant on the Vendor Line List.

Item Setup – Common Errors

Multiple UPCs with Identical Values

- Only 1 GTIN can be assigned to a PID/Color/Size.
- Here is an example where 2 U.P.C.s for the same PID (different colors) have the same NRF Color and Size Code.
- When this occurs, Macy's systems cannot distinguish between the 2 colors, and therefore cannot order/sell both colors.

Note: Each color needs a unique NRF Color Code. NRF color codes should be used consistently between PIDs (i.e. if 420 is 'DENIM' on PID ABC123, it should not be used for 'NAVY' on PID DEF456.

Item Setup – Common Errors

UPC, Multiple PIDs/Details in GXS

- In cases where there are multiple distributors for a single product, the distributors need to ensure that they are using identical Product IDs, Product Descriptions, NRF Codes, Color Descriptions and Size Descriptions.
- Product information variances cause ordering delays because the system does not know which set of data is correct.

Product Page Requirements

- PDP Content has a material impact on conversion and return rates
1

Photos
In the absence of physical product, pictures are the sole visual connection a customer has to the item. According to Salsify, 73% of consumers need at least 3 images to make a buying decision. Ideally, we prefer at least 6 images with silo and lifestyle imagery included. Photos should be high quality and accurately represent the product from multiple angles.

2

Videos
Enhanced content (such as product videos) helps improve customer confidence in their buying decisions and has a material impact on customer conversion.

3

Titles
Titles are crucial in helping customers identify and compare products. It's imperative they have sufficient information including brand, model, size, etc. Should ideally be above 50 characters in length.

4

Reviews
Reviews help customers make buying decisions on products they haven't seen. Items should target 5+ reviews with a 4+ star rating for ideal results.

Vendor Line List

The Vendor Line List (VLL) template has been updated to provide all Item Setup, Attribution, F&B, and Copy details in one workbook to centralize item setup and page creation. Vendors should work with their merchant to ensure they are filling out all REQ columns on tab 2 :

1. Start: Used by merchant to populate division-specific information, including hierarchy and attributes, BEFORE sending to the vendor

2. Vendor Line List: Used to specify all necessary item information, following the below steps:

    - Step 1: Add basic item information to add product into Macy's catalog

    - Step 2: Add customer-facing required information for Macys.com

    - Step 3: Add Features and Benefits listed on Macys.com Product Page

    - Step 4: Add product dimensions & shipping dimensions

    - Step 5: Add product types and attributes

3. Validation: Used by both vendor and merchant to validate information and correct errors. Contains macros to generate templates for item and page creation.

Vendor Line List- Customer Facing Data

The Vendor Line List (VLL) template feeds all customer facing data the vendor has entered directly to Macys.com EXACTLY as written.

Expedited VC & Pre-written Copy

The merchant will decide based on the data submitted by the vendor which workflow they can use to page create. The key to success for our vendor community is to ensure that the VLL is complete and that imagery, copy or F&B, meets Macy's standards. The vendor should always communicate their capabilities well in advance. Best practice would be to submit all product data 120-90 days prior to In DC.

HELPFUL TIPS TO AVOID CHARGEBACKS

- ASN must match what is physically being shipped. Ship & ASN according to the U.P.C. / locations / units received on the PO. Chargebacks are generated for overages or U.P.C. substitutions at the U.P.C./location level.

- Physically ticket the goods with the retail on the PO, unless there has been a mutually agreed upon change with the buyer. Any Reticketing that needs to be done by our stores as a result of vendor error will result in a chargeback.

- Note*: Per Macy's Vendor standards, all Vendor dispute inquires and supporting documentation must be submitted within 60 days of the deduction date to be considered for a reversal*

2022 Vendor Standards Updates

- Macysnet.com is now compatible with Chrome and Edge browsers.

- Color and size codes are standardized by GS1 US (formally standardized by NRF).

- Do not transmit additional line item discount/allowances on EDI 810 Invoices. This will result in additional deductions. Follow the discount/terms, U.P.C. costs in the PO.

- Macy's does not produce U.P.C. tickets for vendors who have been issued in-house U.P.C.s. Vendors should work directly with Fineline to purchase tickets.

- See updates to EPC-Enabled RFID Technical Specifications (Macysnet sign on required to access this document). Changes have been made to approved inlays, etc.

- Domestic vendors are always the importer of record.

2022 Vendor Standards Updates

Receipt Timing: The Importance of INDC

INDC Purchase Order Dating—non-replenishment

- The INDC Opportunity: INDC provides a target date for shipments to simultaneously arrive at our distribution centers across the country

  - The goal is to coordinate arrival in store and on-line to:
    - Maximize regular price selling
    - Support national advertising

STANDARD PROCESS	INDC PROCESS
• Start Ship/Cancel	• INDC/Cancel
• Vendor RTS on/after Start Ship	• Vendor RTS precedes INDC date
• May have POs written by region or DC	• Goal to deliver on INDC date
• Inconsistent availability of merchandise across network of stores	• Transportation arranges multiple pickups per PO; pickup date depends on origin and destination DC

INDC Best Practices

- The INDC date on all Macy's, Bloomingdale's, Macy's Backstage, and Bloomingdale's The Outlet purchase orders is the date that our merchants want the PO to arrive at the DCs

- Should not be treated as a start ship date

- Purchase orders should be prepared and entered into macysnet for routing no less than 14 days before the INDC date, to allow for earliest possible pickup

  - Note: replenishment orders should be prepared and shipped as quickly as possible

- Pickups will be assigned by DC/region and there may be 3-4 different pickup days per PO, depending on shipment origin

- Cancel date is the last day that a PO can ship. Shipment entry must be completed no less than 3 business days before the cancel date

Vendor Ready to Ship Calculator—New

Ready to ship calculator is now available on macysnet, and can be customized to any origin zip code

- Template is posted in the Shipping and Transportation folder of the Vendor Reference library; instructions are

- Main calendar tab is prepopulated with first INDC date of each month

- RTS Calculation tab allows for customization and can also be utilized to calculate ship date for any INDC date

Vendor RTS Calculator

RTS date is when vendor notes they will be ready for pickup and should precede the INDC date

- RTS date, INDC date and their zip code determines actual pickup
- Macysnet requires a minimum of three days from shipment entry to RTS; RTS must be on or before cancel date
- Zip code entered on second tab will prepopulate the optimal RTS dates for a specific origin

Strategic Programs

DC Bypass

- DC Bypass leverages collaboration between the seller and purchaser to reduce cost, time and touches in the process of moving goods from the point of manufacture to the point of sale while bypassing one or more of the trading partners' distribution centers.

- REQUIREMENTS

1. Vendor must apply Ship-to/Mark-for GS1 128 carton labels at the point of manufacture (prior to loading in the shipping container).

2. Vendor must supply EDI856 Advanced Ship Notices (ASN's) from Origin for each container no later than 10 days before scheduled arrival at US port of entry.

3. Vendor must load each direct-to-DC container with product for one Macy's DC only. Container destination is DC destination address.

4. Vendor must ship ocean containers direct to Macy's door (without requiring Trans loading).

5. Carton volume is large enough to economically ship highly cubed ocean containers to individual Macy's DC's.

- NOTE

- Multiple purchase orders from the same vendor with the same INDC date can be combined in the container.

- Cross Department and FOB purchase orders from the same vendor with the same INDC date can be combined in the container.

RFID – REQUIREMENTS & USE CASES

RFID tags are required in addition to UPC tags in most families of business for both Macy's and Bloomingdale's (Refer to RFID Technical Specifications for details on departments requiring RFID tags, tag types and instructions on how to get started)

Primary Use Cases

1. Item File Accuracy

   - Frozen SKU's – a SKU with financial on hand in a location that is not physically present in that location. The SKU becomes unlocked after the count and a purchase order is generated to replace.

2. Display Audit (IE: Shoes)

3. Omnichannel Selling

   - Initial Fill Rate – in store pick requests are filled on first attempt. Items with RFID have a 4-6% higher rate of fulfilled pick requests.

4. B2F – Back to Front

   - Determining what SKU's we own that are not represented on the floor

5. Inventory reconciliation

6. Asset Protection

Cycle counts are performed the last week of each month and reporting is available to merchants the following week

FAQ / Q & A

FAQ:
Vendor Services & AP

Frequent Accounts Payable Answers

- TERMS:
  - PAYMENT: Based on RECEIPT OF GOODS at final destination Distribution Center. Payment terms are transmitted in the EDI850 Purchase Order.
  - FREIGHT: Vary by department/vendor so a singular vendor may have multiple freight allowance terms. Macy's standard for freight allowance is vendor pays 100%. Freight allowance transactions are the billed freight cost to Macy's by the carrier; no mark-up or administrative costs are included. Questions should be addressed with the Macy's buyer.
  - DAMAGE: Negotiated by buyer . Deducted as a % off of every vendor invoice. Recommended as an alternative to physical movement of damaged merchandise. Consider vendor and Macy's expense and sustainability implications.

- Unless the shipment/vendor is audited, merchandise is "booked" based on the vendor's ASN. Vendors who consistently fall below ASN accuracy levels will be moved to audit and incur the corresponding expense offsets. Most .com shipments are audited.

- Transaction specific questions must be submitted via APForms. Inquiries for Invoice Shortages and Invoice Non-Payment must have proof of delivery with delivery street address attached.

Frequent Accounts Payable Answers

- Vendor partnership settlement programs are available for certain types of transactions. If you are interested, contact vendorstandards@macys.com or Ask An Analyst line.

- Non-consignment checks are issued weekly on Wednesday evenings. If paper check, sent USPS by 10 a.m. on Thursdays (exception Thanksgiving Day).

- Because transactions can be processed after business hours on Wednesday, check issuance and dollar amount cannot be confirmed in advance.

- The total of all transactions on the account with a due date of the Tuesday prior to the check must be a positive number for a check to be issued. This means overall trial balance may be positive but a check may not be issued.

- Early invoice payment options are managed through C2FO. Click on the link on the Macysnet home page for additional details.

Frequent Accounts Payable - Consignment Answers

- Checks are issued on the 2nd fiscal Wednesday of the month for the prior fiscal month's on-hand activity.

- Payment is based on changes in on-hands from the beginning of the month to the end of the month, requiring processing of some off-setting reconciling transactions.

- Discount is a valid, buyer-negotiated agreement and is calculated on all applicable financial transactions.

- Freight allowance is a valid, buyer negotiated agreement.

- Consignment vendors are expected to follow the Vendor Standards and are therefore subject to any applicable expense offsets.

Frequent Vendor Standards Answers

- Consult Vendor Services on questions related to Vendor Standards before shipping. Contact the "Ask An Analyst" line (513-782-1400 – 1:00-4:00 p.m. EST) or vendorstandards@macys.com for general questions, including how to submit APForms. Specific transactions will not be addressed through this mail box/phone line.

- Questions on specific transactions submit via APForms on Macysnet.

- Retail must be on all U.P.C./integrated RFID tickets, except those departments noted in the Retail Marking Exceptions appendix. This includes stores, .com and Hold and Flow merchandise.

- RFID integrated tags should visibly look the same as the previous U.P.C. only ticket, with the addition of the EPC trademark symbol.

- RFID tags/inlays must be purchased from a Round Rock licensee. If RFID not required, may purchase from any ticket provider as long as the tickets meet Macy's standards.

- RFID tags must be tested by Macy's.

- U.P.C. only tickets can be tested by Macy's. This is recommended to ensure barcode integrity but is not required.

- MIO Unordered Merchandise Expense Offsets not having a PO are the result of "concealed" unordered U.P.C.s discovered at point of sale.
